

Fictional service agreement

SYNTHETIC TEST FIXTURE - invented content, not a real agreement or legal advice.

Core terms

1. Scope

Example Supplier will prepare a fictional document inventory for Example Customer. The engagement starts on 1 February 2026. Deliverables and charges appear in Schedule A on page 2.

2. Fees and payment

Invoices are payable within 30 days of receipt. Charges are stated in GBP. See Schedule A for the invoice schedule. This clause contains no priority rule resolving a difference between this clause and Schedule A.

3. Acceptance

Example Customer has ten business days after delivery to identify a material failure against the written scope. Example Supplier will correct an identified failure and resubmit the deliverable.

4. Term and ending the work

The engagement lasts three months. Either party may end it with 14 days of written notice. Example Customer must pay for work completed before the end date. Confidentiality duties continue for one year after the engagement ends.

5. Responsibility

Example Supplier's total liability is limited to fees paid under this agreement. Example Customer's payment obligations are not subject to that limit. These fictional terms are included for review experimentation, not as a legal recommendation.

Schedule A - deliverables and charges

A1. Delivery schedule

The table below forms part of the scope described in clause 1. All dates, charges and deliverables are invented.

Deliverable	Due date	Charge
Draft inventory	15 February 2026	GBP 400
Reviewed inventory	1 March 2026	GBP 600
Final handover	15 March 2026	GBP 200

A2. Invoice timing

Example Supplier may invoice when each deliverable is submitted. Each invoice is payable within 7 days of receipt. Clause 2 on page 1 also states a payment deadline; the difference is intentional in this synthetic fixture.

A3. Change requests

A change to the scope, delivery dates or charges requires written agreement by both parties before the additional work starts.
